“Having completed a trial with ADEC, I am convinced that using their service will assist me in growing my practice in the most cost effective way. I have found myself spending too much time doing basic bookkeeping, and continually firefighting to keep up with the work, leaving me no time to go out and win new business. I was contemplating getting a temp in to help, not wanting to commit myself to the fixed cost of employing someone, however the ADEC solution is not only a cheaper option, it is also far more convenient, in that I don't have an individual coming to my office that I then have to manage. The quality of work I have seen completed so far is very good and I'm confident that we will continue to build a good working relationship. Following the trial, I have now engaged ADEC to continue with some of my bookkeeping work and intend to pass over more in the next couple of months...I now look forward to being able to focus on growing my practice in the coming year!”
